

Concert 2 - July 5th, 12h00

mirrored: ceilings, floors, walls

youngjae cho

I concretize what I experience in everyday life, for example a night sky with different star constellations or countless coloured books on the bookshelf. In this piece, I also imagined a room where the walls are completely covered with mirrors. These many multidimensional mirrors have a fascinating effect. The images, which change depending on the vantage point, seem to relate to the resonance and the sonic environment. This work is intended to be presented in a dome of loudspeakers version (3D) or any multi channel version (16 ch or 8ch) in the concert hall.
